

In Memoriam

~Jarret Austin Clark~

April 5, 1988 - May 14, 2006

Jarret Austin Clark

My loving son and my best friend
I'll love you till the very end
It's not the same since you've gone before me
Life is nothing but darkness and seems so empty

The house is quiet with you not there
I go into your room to just sit and stare
I miss everything about you – even your smell
Wish I would wake up from this living hell

You were everything to me Jarret, we were a package deal
And when Eric came into our lives, it all became so real
The three of us grew as a family and became very tight
But now that you're gone -- it just isn't right

We know we'll see you soon on The Other Side
But until our time comes for us to take that ride
We can't understand and we continue to ask why
You had to leave so soon to be a Spirit In The Sky

My loving son and my best friend
I'll love you till the very end

Mom

(Tammy & Eric Slater)

www.jarretaustinclark.com